Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Monday 20 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly dry, cold and cloudy on Tuesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Mostly cloudy with a little drizzle in places. Some clear periods across the central and west Highlands with some frost and fog patches. Light winds.

Tuesday:
Mostly cloudy and mainly dry, a few light showers in the north. Some sunshine breaking through across central and west Highland areas. Feeling rather cold.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Rain and hill snow spreading north on Wednesday, far north staying dry. Further rain and hill snow spreading north on Thursday, turning drier on Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.